

we're counting on you

We need you to return your Census form.

Have you been counted in?

If you have completed and posted back your Census 2001 form please ignore this reminder.

If you have yet to complete and return your Census form please do so today.

The information gathered by the Census is vital in planning ahead and delivering the services we need. It is impossible to plan services for invisible people. The information you provide, as well as being strictly confidential, will ensure that we have a complete picture of Northern Ireland.

Complete and post back your Census form today - if you don't you may be liable for a fine!

It's not too late to be counted in.

Thank you.
