

you were out

We will call back with your Census form.

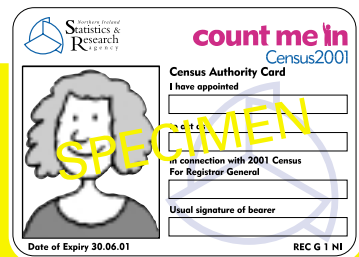

29 April is Census Day. You need to be counted in.

On Census Day every household in Northern Ireland will be asked to complete a Census form. The information gathered helps plan all our futures. It is essential that everyone is included.

I called today to deliver your Census 2001 form. Even though you were not at home when I called, it is important that you are included in the Census. I will call again later in the week to deliver your form. Please look out for it over the next few days, and post it back as soon as you can after Census Day.

Your Census enumerator

As proof of identity, all Census representatives will show you a card like this one when they call.

If you have any queries regarding the Census:

Phone the Census Helpline on 0845 3020011 (local call rate) or text phone 0845 3032001 (local call rate).

Census information is also available on the internet at www.nicensus2001.gov.uk

Remember 29 April 2001 is Census Day
