

STATISTICS PRESS NOTICE

NORTHERN IRELAND CENSUS 2001
THEME TABLES

9.30am, 30 March 2004

The Northern Ireland Statistics and Research Agency (NISRA) today published a further report from the 2001 Census. The report contains 25 theme tables that bring together previously published information for particular sub-populations into individual summary tables that will allow the characteristics of different social groups (e.g. the elderly) to be compared more readily. The tables cover a variety of Census topics including age, ethnic group, economic activity and household composition.

While the report presents information at the Northern Ireland level, similar tables to those contained in the report are available for a variety of lower geographical levels, including Local Government Districts and Electoral Wards and can be accessed electronically via the NISRA web site (www.nisra.gov.uk).
