- Identifies small area concentrations of multiple deprivation
- Multiple Deprivation -Deprivation is 'unmet need across a number of domains'
 - not limited to poverty; lack of money or material possessions (Atkinson 1998)
- Spatial measure
- Concentrations – not all deprived people live in deprived areas
- Relative deprivation - mostleast deprived.

NI spatial measures produced since 1970s

‘Robson’ measures – 1994

‘Noble’ measures – 2001, 2005

NISRA – 2010

UK and RoI Measures of Deprivation

- Measures produced in England (2007), Wales (2008) and Scotland (2009)
- Noble methodology in common – although results not directly comparable
 - Indicators, geographical units, year
- Irish measures based on 1996/ 2002/ 2006 Census (domains)
- Combat Poverty Agency: feasibility of Local Poverty Index

Deprivation Domains

- Positive correlation between six of the seven domains of deprivation (and MDM)

an area deprived in one domain is likely to be deprived in other domains

- Particularly – income, employment, health deprivation and disability, and education skills and training
- Negative correlation between 6 domains and proximity to services

e.g. as Proximity to Services deprivation increases & Crime and Disorder decreases

- Income
- Employment
- Health Deprivation & Disability
- Education Skills & Training
- Proximity to Services
- Living Environment
- Crime & Disorder

Proximity to Services

Measures geographical access to key services:

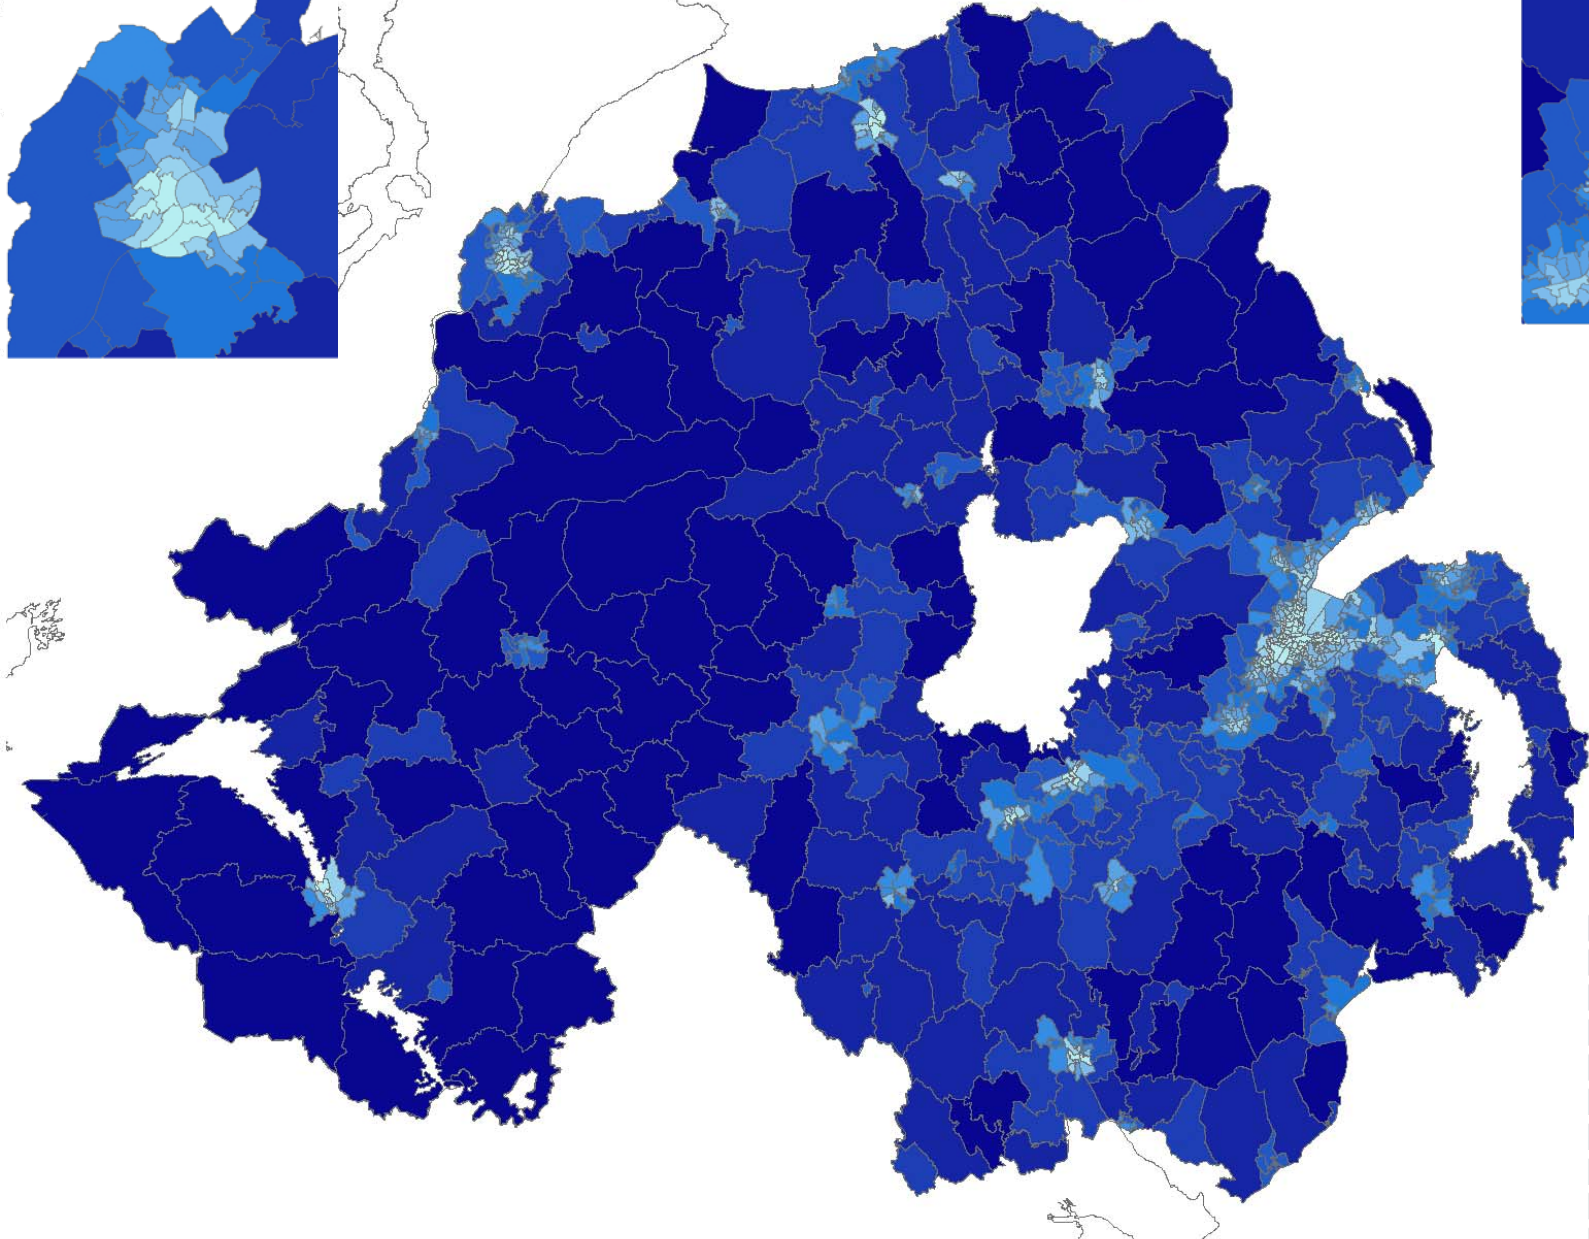

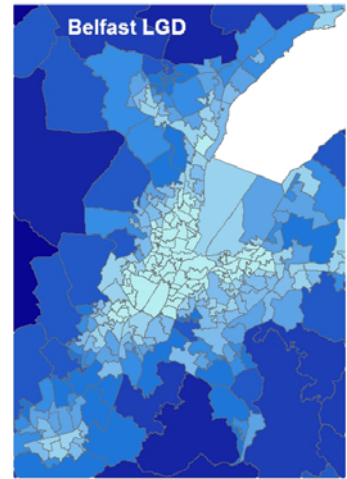

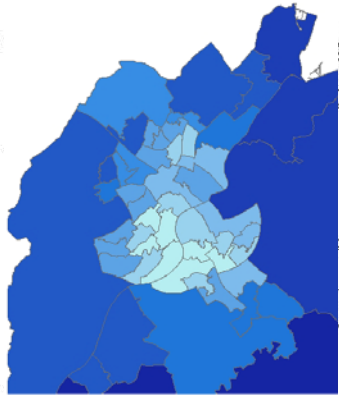

- GP Premises
- A&E hospital
- Dentist
- Pharmacist
- Optician
- Jobs and Benefits Office
- Post Office
- Food shop
- Financial Services
- Other general services
- Council Leisure Centre
- Large Service Centre
